

Aunt Annie's here!

Level 2 – Where am I?

Pssst! It's me, Annie! Can you tell me where I am? Listen carefully for three clues.

I'm in a very beautiful city. It's December and brrr... it's cold outside and very foggy. Everyone here speaks Italian. Ah, that's your first clue.

Here's another clue: There are many, many canals and bridges here because the city was built on a lagoon. There are no cars here, so gondoliers paddle their gondolas from canal to canal. Oh, that's your second clue!

Right now, I'm standing on the corner of a big square. OMG, it's huge!

The square is called Piazza San Marco. That's the Italian name. Do you know what a piazza is called in English? That's right! It's called a 'square', so in English it's called St. Mark's Square.

That's my third clue.

Do you know where I am?

Here are the three clues again:

1. It's a city in Italy.
2. There are no cars, but lots of gondolas.
3. The square is called Piazza San Marco in Italian.

Where am I?

That's right, I'm in Venice! Bravissimo!

And ciao for now!

You can listen to more podcasts at www.auntannie.ch/podcasts.

BTW: Annie can visit you in your classroom. For more information go to www.auntannie.ch.